Dear St Michael’s Community,

ST MICHAEL’S COLLEGE UNISA MASTER OF EDUCATION

Over the past twelve months, the College has been negotiating the development of a St Michael’s College research-based Master of Education program for teachers, to be delivered in partnership with UniSA. I am pleased to announce that an appropriate course has been designed and approved and is now being delivered by UniSA, with regular face to face support available at the College.

Ten of our teachers were successful in their application to undertake the Masters and I congratulate and thank Amanda Rossi, Joanne Gilmore, Mark Labrosciano, Patrizia Puglia, Rachel Philp, Ray Becker, Sally Armour, Sam Kitschke, Tonia Carfora and Catherine Pearce for embracing the opportunity.

Our Lasallian Heritage is rich in regard to the importance of the teacher and their development, as recognised with De La Salle being proclaimed the Patron Saint of Teachers in 1950. De La Salle offered “A community of educators who helped each other, shared their educational experiences and evaluated their pedagogical work” (The Conduct) as brothers and sisters to one another. It is pleasing that this continues informally on a day to day basis at the College, as well as in more formal circumstances such as the Masters study.

This is an exciting initiative, with the participants having access to a quality, affordable Master of Education that will build their capacity as leaders of learning, develop skills in research methods and allow for the design and completion of meaningful work-based projects aligned with our Strategic Priorities, thus benefiting both the participating teachers and the College as a whole. We offer the group our support and wish them well for the study.

I also acknowledge the support of UniSA and the College Board in making this opportunity a reality. The evidence is quite clear that school-based research and professional development have a significant, positive impact on teaching and learning outcomes and we look forward to the realisation of this as the program develops.

DE LA SALLE DAY

As you are aware, the St Michael’s College community will celebrate De La Salle Day next Friday 25 September. This is one of the few opportunities we have throughout the year to bring staff and students from both campuses together, and as such it is a unique and vibrant community experience.

The format of the day is very much in line with our Lasallian heritage, in that it follows the spirit of Faith, Service and Community. The day will begin with a Liturgy in the Founders Hall, followed by a range of presentations and activities. All funds raised on the day will go to supporting those in need.

I thank, in advance, all involved in the preparation of the day. Please see the flyer on Page 3 for full details.

Live Jesus in our hearts!

Principal

GOLF
Recently, Anthony Murdaca (Class of 2013) returned to St Michael’s College to have a chip and chat with some of our current golfers. It was a fantastic opportunity to talk about his Masters appearance last year and his upcoming adventures. I would like to thank Anthony for making the time to come in given he was flying out to Germany the next day.

YEAR 11 LEGAL STUDIES EXCURSION
On the Friday of Week 8, Mr Williams’ Stage One Legal Studies class (accompanied by Ms Rossi and Ms Nicola) visited two of Adelaide’s Courts and Parliament House. We met at the steps of the Magistrates Court in Victoria Square at 8:45am and found there were many members of the media awaiting to film the reaction of victims of cases. Mr Peter Cavouras of the Courts Education Office greeted us and explained that courts are very different to how they are displayed in pop culture and that “Law and Order, The Simpsons, Pirates of the Caribbean and Judge Judy” do not offer accurate representations of Court room manner. We were given a brief tour of the inside of the building before being taken into a courtroom. Here we were given the opportunity to try on various uniforms that people must wear in court (prosecutor, judge). Since this was the Magistrates Court we expected to see low-level crimes, offences and misdemeanours. This of course does not always apply as one of our groups saw a major crime that will end in either the Supreme or District Court, as all crimes start off in the Magistrates Court. After lunch we went to Parliament House, we had been learning about it many weeks prior to this day. We had the privilege of having a tour given to us by Hon. Paul Caica (on Caica Cup day nonetheless). He showed us many elements of the building such as statues of iconic members, portraits, some of the oldest books published in South Australian History and even the library’s antique globe. The highlight was when he told us his journey through his years in politics while we sat in both the Upper and Lower Houses of Parliament. This was an eye opening day to say the least as you can only learn so much about the courts from a textbook, the cases and people involved are as real as can be. The tour of Parliament House was most enjoyable and we are grateful to Mr Caica who gave up his time. This day was a notable highlight of the school year.

ITALIAN/SCIENCE ZOO EXCURSION – UNA GITA ALLO ZOO
Last Thursday the Year 8 Girls went to the Adelaide Zoo for an Italian/Science excursion. It was a beautiful, sunny day!

During the day we walked around and saw many different animals. This helped our studies because we now know the names of different animals and some adjectives to describe them in Italian. We also learned lots of new verbs to describe their behaviour and this excursion helped us practise our language skills because we answered lots of questions in Italian. In Science we learned more about different species of animals. We learned about classification and what vertebrates and invertebrates are.

Some of the highlights were going into the petting zoo with the goats, sheep, chickens and deer, watching the orangutans, the baby baboon and the tamarins. We also saw Funi, the female panda, sitting high up in one of the trees. We learned that in the wild, when it’s breeding season, the female pandas climb up the trees while the males below fight over who gets to mate with her. And if the female doesn’t like the winning male, sometimes she stays in the tree!

Unfortunately the reptile house and tortoise enclosure were closed so we didn’t get to see them. It would have also been good to see the animals being fed.

This excursion was very informative and a great way to spend time with our classmates. On behalf of the class we would like to thank the staff for organizing it.

Students from 8NI
HISTORICALLY SPEAKING
Lessons in life are often learned through experience and sometimes this can be problematic in History as we just do not have the ability to time travel just yet!

Students at St Michael’s College have been fortunate to access the next best thing over the last few weeks at school through guest speakers, specialist re-enactments and workshops.

YEAR 11 HISTORIANS – REMEMBER THE HOLOCAUST.
On Wednesday 9 September 2015 you could have heard a pin drop in Room 47 as the Year 11 History class listened intently to the stories and experiences of Andrew Steiner and Eva Temple. Both Andrew and Eva shared their experience of surviving the Holocaust and how this has impacted upon their lives and their identities.

Andrew Steiner is a renowned local artist and the picture included here has been part of the inspiration for some of his artwork. It reminds him of his own experiences in Hungary during 1944. Andrew was able to articulate for our students some very important life lessons. It was through his story and experiences that we were encouraged to think of the power of one and that evil only exists if good men stand around and do nothing. Andrew explained that humans are essentially good and it is through acts of coincidence and kindness that he was able to survive living in Hungary during those terrible years.

Eva Temple is the youngest survivor of the notorious Bergen Belsen Camp, she was a baby and hidden by her grandmother until liberation. Sadly her grandmother did not survive very long after liberation, but was able to pass on key details about Eva’s parents to the Red Cross. Eva’s story revolved around her search for who she is and a document trail that has recently taken her to Israel where she was reunited with one of her original carers. Eva also emphasised how coincidences and even tiny bits of information put together, can be powerful.

In closing here are just some of the thoughtful reflections from our students:

“"The stories of Eva were of interest as it is almost like her childhood was stolen from her”.
""It was an honour to be able to touch something tangible from the time".
"People must stand up against injustice".
"I greatly admire your true courage”.
"It gave me the opportunity to ask lots of questions”.
"Hate does not get you anywhere”.

YEAR 8 MEET FIREBEAR ARMOURY AND MEDIEVAL MIKE

Weapons, trebuchets, mangonels and chainmail were the order of the day last Friday. Students were presented with the opportunity to see and use first-hand some of the most effective weapons used during the medieval period. Mike, Huxley and Susannah dressed in full medieval splendour and were able to challenge our students into considering many aspects of medieval life. Cooper and Skye were resplendent in their chainmail and armour and survived to tell the tale after being stabbed and prodded with various arrows, spears and daggers.

In the latter half of the morning the students headed off to the oval where a replica full size trebuchet was desaturated and they were also given the chance to show off their skill with a staff and sling. The students got a chance to ask lots of questions, to see for themselves how people dressed and to consider what life was like for the ordinary peasant. The issue of sieges, war and conquest was also hotly debated along with the technicalities of weapons that sometimes went over our heads. (Excuse the pun!)

Special mention must go to Max who was King of the questions. All in all, an interesting and enlightening morning that hopefully inspires students to delve a bit deeper into the past.

EVEN WARS HAVE LAWS
On 4 September I was fortunate enough to be invited to attend the Australian Red Cross’s Annual Even Wars Have Laws Programme. It is a day that focuses on teaching students and teachers on the facts behind International Humanitarian Law, the rich history of the Red Cross organisation and how they play a key role in aiding those in need. The event took place at Parliament House where we spent the day in their Balcony Room. We were fortunate to have the opportunity to ask a number of diverse panelists questions regarding their involvement in their respected fields of work (humanitarian, armed forces, lawyer). One of the highlights of the day was a role-playing exercise called Orangetown-Biueland. This game had a focus on giving a face to those who are affected by war and the reasons why we need ethical laws in war. During our lunchbreak we were given a tour through Parliament House, one of the most significant landmarks in the history of South Australia. Without a doubt the best part of the day was when we were split into mock political groups where we had to discuss a bill regarding war. After we had finalised our draft of the bill we then all regrouped in the Upper House of Parliament (Legislative Council- Red Room) and attempted to get our bill turned into legislation. Some proved successful while others had their bill scrutinised. The event was both informative and entertaining for me as I learnt a large amount of information about the Red Cross (I was unaware it was a war crime to harm a Red Cross worker on the battlefield) and International Humanitarian Law. I would like to thank Mr Muscat for considering me for this opportunity and Petra Ball and her colleagues for running such a compelling programme. I highly recommend it to all future Year 10-12’s.

YEAR 12 STUDENTS REMINDER
If any students require help with their SATAC University applications for 2016 we encourage them to come to Student Services and make an appointment with either Mr Vizianiaris or Ms Coorey. It is useful if they are able to access a personal email addresses (not their St Michael’s one). The deadline for a timely application for 2016 University courses is Wednesday 30 September. After this date some courses close (Medicine, Dentistry, Vet and Bioscience). There are also many “Creative” courses that cannot be added after this date. We remind students their online application is not complete until they are emailed a summary with their 9 digit SATAC Reference Number. This occurs after they click on the SUBMIT tab at the end of this application process.

LATE ADDITION 2016
New course at Flinders University, Engineering (Agricultural) (Honours) SATAC code: 234151 Prerequisites: Mathematical Methods or Mathematical Studies Assumed Knowledge: Stage 2 Physics. This course suits our South Australian industry growth projections promoting our “Paddock to Plate” Industry: See: http://www.flinders.edu.au/courses/new-courses-2016/engineering-agricultural.cfm

TAFESA
TAFE Applications are now open: http://www.satac.edu.au/tafe-sa. Students need to apply by Monday 30 November to get Equal Consideration for Competitive Courses. This is a bit different to SATAC Uni Applications. It means if you add a course after 30 November that is "Competitive" (as shown by the orange heading "COMPETITIVE Applications") you will not get equal consideration even if you had other preferences on there by the 30 November. In terms of SATAC Uni we say you can add delete and reorder after the first date but at TAFE you can only add and reorder non-competitive courses after the 30 November deadline. The date for change of preferences of non-competitive courses with Equal Consideration is through to Thursday 31 December with offers being made around January 11 2016, (note some offers for Non Competitive Courses will be made before this date). Some of the "Creative courses" have additional application requirements that need to be met by specified dates – see TAFESA Website www.tafesa.edu.au. We have emailed Year 12 students directly with additional information about upcoming Uni and TAFE Deadlines.

STAT TEST
A reminder that as long as you have one preference in the SATAC Uni Website by Wednesday 30 September you can book in for a STAT Test right through to Monday 30 November without a late fee. Any person over 18 by 1 February 2016 is eligible to sit for the SAT. SATAC will consider either the STAT score or ATAR – whichever is the highest. Most University courses accept Special Entry from SATAC students (see Section 4 of the SATAC Guide page 219). For some courses Personal Competencies Statement and Employment Experience may also be bundled together with the SATAC Score as the total score for “Special Entry”. The main SATAC Sitting is on the Schoolies Weekend but from mid-October SATAC will have other December sittings listed on their website. We remind students who booked in for early October sittings to remember to go back on and change to a December booking a week before the initial booking. UniSA have a great one day STAT prep Workshop during Saturdays and Sundays in October/November but you need to book early. See: http://www.unisa.edu.au/Study-at-UniSA/Study-with-us/Entry-pathways/STAT/

UMAT RESULTS
The ACER website states results will be emailed by the end of September – but going by last year Year 12 students began receiving their email results earlier, so hopefully next week!! We have asked students who sat the UMAT to please send us an email to tell us how they went and we offer support to students in their next step.

FLINDERS UNITEST
If students missed our sitting of the UniTest here at St Michael’s then they can now go straight to Flinders to sit it! On campus at Flinders Bedford Park during the school holiday break: Tuesday 29th September, 9am-12pm Tuesday 29 September, 1pm-4pm – Friday 2 October 1pm-4pm. Students need to register online ASAP to secure a sitting. Remember if you are applying for a “relevant” Flinders course then there will be two calculations for consideration of an offer – your straight Bonus point ATAR and the sum of 60% Bonus point ATAR plus 40% UniTest Result) – whichever is the better score will be the basis of consideration – you have nothing to lose: See: http://www.flinders.edu.au/unitest/

Grammar Corner 8

Last week we looked briefly at Adverbial Clauses. There are several kinds of Adverbial Clause as illustrated by these examples.

As soon as Peter saw her he knew she was the one. Adverbial Clause of Time
He drove his Mercedes as if the devil were after him. Adverbial Clause of Manner
Jane is taller than I am. Adverbial Clause of Comparison

If the facts don’t fit the theory, change the facts. Adverbial Clause of Condition
The poor old woman stole the bread because she was hungry. Adverbial Clause of Reason
Emily scrubbed the floors so hard that she was exhausted. Adverbial clause of Result
Although it had started to rain, the game was not called off. Adverbial Clause of Concession

Each of these Adverbial Clauses refers back to the verb in the Main Clause, providing the reader with more information as to when, where, why, how or if the action in the verb of the Main Clause took place or was affected in some other way, or what the result, purpose or condition relating to that action was. There is no need to remember all these categories of Adverbial Clause; it is sufficient to be aware that any clause adding more information to a verb is an Adverbial Clause.
I began teaching at St Michael's in 1954 and continued there to 1958. I was 20 years old when classes began in 1954 at Beverley. This was my first teaching appointment on the completion of my formation as a Brother. Many in my class were 10 years old. Those ages represent classifications of men and boys. However now that I am 82 and those from the 1954 era still living are 72, we're together in the classification of "seniors" perhaps "pensioners".

I hope my pupils of those days are in at least as good a state of health as I am. I am currently living in the community of De La Salle Brothers at Malvern, Melbourne, so I've come back to be "next door" to De La Salle College where I was a secondary student at Malvern in the 1940s just after WW2 ended.

These days I join other volunteers a couple of mornings a week teaching English to refugees at a centre in the Dandenong area.

Fr Paul Cashen msc would be the person from 1954-58 whom I’ve most met up with over the years. Our most recent contact was 2014 when I travelled to Adelaide to mark 60 years since the beginning at SMC, and was guest of the Sacred Heart Missionaries at their Henley Beach house.

Wishing God’s blessings on all connected with SMC.
